Complaint filed: October 29, 2007

23 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a) and 28 U.S.C. § 1446, Defendants Guidant Corporation,
24 Guidant Sales Corporation, Cardiac Pacemakers, Inc. and Boston Scientific Corporation
25 (collectively "Guidant") file this Notice of Removal of this case from the California Superior Court
26 for the County of San Francisco to the United States District Court for the Northern District of 27 California. In support of this Notice of Removal, Guidant states the following: 28

NOTICE OF REMOVAL

GUIDANT MDL

1 2. This action is one of over 2,000 products liability actions against Guidant that have 2 been brought in or removed to federal courts across the country. As a result of these numerous suits,
 3 on November 7, 2005, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1407, the Judicial Panel on Multi-District Litigation
 4 ("JPML") entered a transfer order establishing an MDL entitled In re Guidant Corporation
 5 Implantable Defibrillators Products Liability Litigation, MDL-1708, and transferring and 6 consolidating a number of cases to the United States District Court, District of Minnesota ("MDL
 7 Court" or "MDL 1708").¹ Among the primary purposes of consolidating these cases cited by the 8 JPML was to conserve judicial resources and avoid inconsistent rulings.²

9 2. More than 2,020 cases are currently pending in the MDL. Once removed, Guidant
 10 intends to seek inclusion of the instant case within the MDL proceeding. And once transferred, all 11 pretrial issues will be governed by orders entered by the Honorable Donovan W. Frank, who 12 presides over MDL 1708.

REMOVAL PROCEDURES

13 3. On October 29, 2007, this action, entitled Seta Saad and Christian Saad, individually
 14 and as representatives of the Estate of Raymond Saad v. Guidant Corporation, Guidant Sales
 15 Corporation, Cardiac Pacemakers, Inc., Boston Scientific Corporation, Ashley & McMullen-Wing
 16 Sun Mortuary, a business entity form unknown; Ashley & McMullen, a business entity form
 17 unknown; and Does 1 through 20, inclusive, was filed in the Superior Court for the State of 18 California in and for the County of San Francisco, Case No. CSC-87-468614.

19 4. Guidant Corporation was served with the complaint on December 6, 2007. To date, 20 Guidant Sales Corporation, Cardiac Pacemakers, Inc. and Boston Scientific Corporation have not 21 been served.

22 5. Under 28 U.S.C. §1446(b), the notice of removal of a civil action shall be filed within 23 30 days after the receipt by the defendant, through service or otherwise, of a copy of the initial

¹ A true and correct copy of the transfer order establishing MDL 1708 and transferring and 25 consolidating a number of cases to the District Court of Minnesota is attached as Exhibit A.

26 ² Id. at 2.

1 pleading setting forth the claim for relief upon which such action or proceeding is based. To trigger
 2 the 30-day removal period, the defendant must receive the summons and complaint by proper 3 service. See Murphy Bros., Inc. v. Michetti Pipe Stringing, Inc., 526 U.S. 344, 354 (1999). Thus, 4 this removal is timely.

5 6. A copy of all process, pleadings, and orders served upon Guidant in this action is 6 attached as Exhibit B. See 28 U.S.C. § 1446(a). There have been no proceedings in this action in 7 the San Francisco County Superior Court involving Guidant, nor have any of these Defendants filed
 8 responsive pleadings or otherwise responded to Plaintiffs' complaint. Guidant reserves any and all 9 rights to assert any and all defenses to Plaintiffs' complaint.

10 7. Finally, venue is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because this action was pending
 11 in San Francisco County Superior Court.

DIVERSITY JURISDICTION EXISTS

13 8. This Court has original jurisdiction over this lawsuit under 28 U.S.C. § 1332. And 14 this diversity action may be removed to this Court under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1441 and 1446. Suits that do 15 not arise under federal law are removable "if none of the parties in interest properly joined and 16 served as defendants is a citizen of the State in which such action is brought." 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b)
 17 (emphasis added). The only other requirement for diversity jurisdiction is that the amount in 18 controversy exceed $75,000. Id. § 1332(a).

19 9. Plaintiffs Seta Saad and Christian Saad are citizens and residents of California.³

20 10. Guidant Corporation is a Minnesota corporation with its principal place of business in 21 Minnesota. For purposes of diversity of citizenship, a corporation is deemed to be a citizen of both 22 the state of its incorporation and of the state where it has its principal place of business. 28 U.S.C.
 23 § 1332(c)(1). Thus, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1), Guidant Corporation is a citizen only of 24 Minnesota.

25 11. Guidant Sales Corporation is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Cardiac Pacemakers, Inc., 26 which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Guidant Corporation. It is also a Minnesota corporation with 27 ³ Plaintiffs' Complaint ("Compl.") at ¶¶ 3-4.

1 its principal place of business in Minnesota. Thus, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1), Guidant
 2 Sales Corporation is a citizen of Minnesota.

3 12. Cardiac Pacemakers, Inc. is a Minnesota corporation with its principal place of 4 business in Minnesota. Thus, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1), Cardiac Pacemakers, Inc. is a 5 citizen of Minnesota.

6 13. Boston Scientific Corporation is incorporated in the state of Delaware and has its 7 principal place of business in Massachusetts. Thus, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1), Boston
 8 Scientific Corporation is a citizen of Delaware and Massachusetts.

9 14. According to the complaint, Defendant Ashley & McMullen-Wing Sun Mortuary is a 10 business entity, form unknown, that operates a mortuary located in San Francisco, California.⁴

11 15. According to the complaint, Defendant Ashley & McMullen is a business entity, form
 12 unknown, that operates the Ashley & McMullen-Wing Sun Mortuary located in San Francisco, 13 California.⁵

14 16. Upon information and belief, Defendants Ashley & McMullen-Wing Sun Mortuary
 15 and Ashley & McMullen (collectively "Ashley & McMullen") are citizens and residents of 16 California.

17 17. However, Ashley & McMullen's California citizenship is irrelevant for removal 18 purposes because, as set forth in more detail below, Ashley & McMullen is improperly joined.
 19 Thus, no properly-joined defendant is a resident of California, and complete diversity of citizenship
 20 exists between Plaintiffs and Guidant. See 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b).

21 18. All properly-joined Defendants consent to this Notice of Removal. Defendants who 22 are not properly joined, or who are nominal parties or remain un-served, need not consent to 23 removal. 28 U.S.C. § 1332; Hewitt v. City of Stanton, 798 F.2d 1230, 1232 (9th Cir. 1986); Salveson
 24 v. W. States Bankcard Assoc., 731 F.2d 1423, 1429 (9th Cir. 1984).

PLAINTIFFS HAVE IMPROPERLY JOINED NEGLIGENCE CLAIMS AGAINST ASHLEY & MCMULLEN WITH PRODUCTS-LIABILITY CLAIMS AGAINST GUIDANT

2 A. Defendants Ashley & McMullen-Wing Sun Mortuary and Ashley & McMullen 3 Are Improperly Joined.

4 19. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 21 provides that “[p]arties may be dropped or added
5 by order of the court . . . at any stage of the action and on such terms as just.” Courts may sever 6 misjoined parties when their claims do not arise out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of 7 transactions or occurrences, and the claims will not involve a question of law or fact common to all
8 parties. Hamilton v. Signature Flight Support Corp., No. C-05-490 CW, 2005 WL 1514127, at *3
9 (N.D. Cal. June 21, 2005); In re Diet Drugs Prods. Liab. Litig., MDL No. 1203, No. Civ. A. 04-
10 20099, 2004 WL 2095451, at *1 (E.D. Pa. Sept. 20, 2004) (citing, inter alia, Fed. R. Civ. P. 20).

11 20. Where plaintiffs have improperly joined parties in a lawsuit pursuant to Rule 20,⁶ 12 courts have severed the claims against the misjoined parties to preserve a removing party’s right to 13 removal. See, e.g., In re Rezulin Prod. Liab. Litig., No. 00 Civ. 2843, 2003 WL 21276425, at *1-2
14 (S.D.N.Y. June 2, 2003); Tapscott v. MS Dealer Serv. Corp., 77 F.3d 1353, 1360 (11th Cir. 1996).

15 21. Here, Plaintiffs have misjoined Ashley & McMullen because their negligence claims
16 against Ashley & McMullen are both factually and legally distinct from the products-liability claims 17 against Guidant.

18 22. Plaintiffs’ decedent, Raymond Saad, was allegedly implanted with a Guidant
19 pacemaker/defibrillator (“ICD”) on October 7, 2004.⁷ He died on October 30, 2005 allegedly from 20 heart failure that Plaintiffs contend was caused by the Guidant ICD.⁸ According to the Complaint, at 21 Plaintiff Seta Saad’s direction, her husband’s body was allegedly transported to a mortuary owned
22 and operated by Ashley & McMullen.⁹ The Complaint alleges Mrs. Saad gave a Guidant

23 ⁶ Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 20 relates to the “permissive joinder” of parties. “All persons 24 may join in one action as plaintiffs if they assert any right to relief jointly, severally, or in the 25 alternative in respect of or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or 26 occurrences and if any question of law or fact common to all these persons will arise in the 27 action....” Fed. R. Civ. P. 20(a).

1 representative permission to do a "non-invasive test or reading" of the ICD, but only in her
 2 presence.¹⁰ The Complaint further alleges the testing or reading of the device occurred without Mrs.
 3 Saad's prior knowledge and without her presence, and the device was later removed without her
 4 permission.¹¹

5 23. Plaintiffs' legal claims against Guidant are completely separate from their legal 6 claims against Ashley & McMullen. Plaintiffs state only negligence and negligent infliction of 7 emotional distress claims against Ashley & McMullen.¹² In contrast, Plaintiffs bring a wrongful 8 death and survival action against Guidant, alleging 14 separate claims: (1) design and/or 9 manufacturing defect-strict liability; (2) failure to warn-strict liability; (3) negligence; (4) negligence
 10 per se; (5) breach of implied warranty; (6) breach of assumed contractual warranty obligations; (7)
 11 fraud; (8) constructive fraud; (9) negligent infliction of emotional distress; (10) intentional infliction
 12 of emotional distress; (11) gross negligence/malice; (12) unfair competition and unfair business
 13 practices; (13) conversion; and (14) loss of consortium.¹³

14 24. Plaintiffs' claims are factually separable as well. Plaintiffs' claims against Ashley &
 15 McMullen arise from the alleged breach of duty of care that Ashley & McMullen owed to Plaintiffs 16 based on acts or omissions that occurred while the decedent's body was in the mortuary's
 17 possession.¹⁴ See Christensen v. Superior Court, 54 Cal. 3d 868, 901 (1991) (discussing a 18 mortuary's duty of care to provide respectful and dignified treatment of a corpse). In contrast,
 19 Plaintiffs' primary claims against Guidant arise from the alleged breach of duty of care that Guidant
 20 owed to Plaintiffs' decedent and involve the design, testing, manufacture, sale, and function of the 21 device at issue in Plaintiffs' Complaint.¹⁵

22 25. The evidence on these claims will also be separate—evidence regarding the

 2 regarding Ashley & McMullen's treatment of Plaintiffs' decedent's body on the other. See Crockett
 3 v. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., et al., 436 F.3d 529, 533 (5th Cir. 2006) (agreeing with the state
 4 court's severance of medical negligence claims against health care defendants from product liability 5 claims against product manufacturer because the burdens of proof to establish the claims are "totally 6 different"); Greene v. Wyeth, 344 F. Supp. 2d 1674, 1683 (D. Nev. 2004) (severing medical-
 7 malpractice claims against non-diverse doctor who prescribed Fen-phen from the product liability 8 claims against the manufacturer because the claims were improperly joined).

9 26. This Court has the discretion to remand the claims against Ashley & McMullen and 10 retain jurisdiction over the claims against Guidant. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 21. Guidant urges that this 11 Court sever Plaintiffs' claims against Ashley & McMullen, and that those claims either be dismissed
 12 without prejudice or remanded, while the claims against Guidant remain in federal court.

 14 Drugs Prods. Liab. Litig., MDL No. 1203, Civ. A. 04-20099, 2004 WL 2095451, at * 1 (E.D. Pa.
 15 Sept. 20, 2004) (citing Moore's Federal Practice § 21.02(1); Official Comm. Of Unsecured
 16 Creditors v. Shapiro, 190 F.R.D. 352, 355 (E.D. Pa. 2000)). Here, the "efficient administration of 17 justice" would best be served by transferring the product liability claims asserted against Guidant to 18 the MDL Court in Minnesota.

19 28. The JPML created MDL 1708 to coordinate pretrial activities, to avoid duplicative 20 discovery, and to promote the just and efficient conduct of the litigation. The spectrum of cases that 21 comprise MDL No. 1708 are "actions shar[ing] allegations that certain implantable defibrillator
 22 devices manufactured by Guidant were defective and caused injury, or the threat of injury, to the 23 plaintiffs . . ." Transfer Order, In re Guidant Corp. Implantable Defibrillators Prods. Liab. Litig., 24 Docket No. 1708 (J.P.M.L. Nov. 7, 2005) ("JPML Transfer Order").

25 29. Because Plaintiffs assert allegations against Guidant that are similar to those in the 26 more than 2,000 cases transferred to MDL 1708, discovery in this case would be duplicative and a
 27 hardship on Guidant if this case is not transferred. Upon transfer, Plaintiffs will have access to the 1 more than 14 million pages of documents have already been produced in the MDL. Thus, Plaintiffs' 2 action belongs in the MDL. Plaintiffs should not be allowed to avoid the MDL's jurisdiction by 3 improperly joining in-state defendants.

4 30. Upon severance of Ashley & McMullen from this action, this Court has diversity 5 jurisdiction over the remaining defendants in this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332.

6 B. Similar Attempts to Avoid The MDL By Other California Plaintiffs Have Failed.

7 31. Here, Plaintiffs join the non-diverse defendants, Ashley & McMullen, in an attempt 8 to avoid transfer to the MDL. Similarly, in at least 20 other California products-liability cases 9 against Guidant, the plaintiffs unsuccessfully attempted to defeat removal and avoid transfer to the 10 MDL by fraudulently or misjoining negligence claims against resident hospitals. Nearly all of the 20 11 cases were removed to federal district court and transferred to the MDL over the plaintiffs' 12 objections.¹⁶ See, e.g., Brown v. Guidant Corp. et al., C 07-00409 JF (MDL-1708) (D. Minn.) (order 13 denying plaintiff's motion to remand as to Guidant and another non-resident defendant, and severing 14 and remanding misjoined claims against resident doctor).¹⁷

15 AMOUNT IN CONTROVERSY

16 32. The amount in controversy in this case exceeds $75,000, excluding interest and costs. 17 A defendant can establish the amount in controversy by the allegations in a complaint, or by setting 18 forth facts in the notice of removal that demonstrate that the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.

20 ¹⁷ A true and correct copy of the order severing and remanding misjoined claims against resident 21 defendant is attached as Exhibit B.

1 Green v. Party City Corp., No. CV-01-09681, 2002 WL 553219, at *2 (C.D. Cal. 2002) (noting that 2 if the complaint is silent on the amount of damages claimed, the court may consider facts in the 3 removed petition); Gaus v. Miles, Inc., 980 F.2d 564, 576 (9th Cir. 1992).

4 33. The face of the complaint makes clear that Plaintiffs seek damages in excess of 5 $75,000. Plaintiffs bring a wrongful death and survival action with 14 claims against Guidant alone.
 6 Also, Plaintiffs' prayer for relief includes requests for compensatory damages, restitution and 7 disgorgement of profits, attorneys' fees and costs, and such other relief as the Court deems just and 8 proper.¹⁸

9 34. Complaints seeking damages such as those alleged by Plaintiffs have been held to 10 establish, on their face, that the amount in controversy exceeds the jurisdictional requirement. See, 11 e.g., Quinn v. Kimble, 228 F. Supp. 2d 1038 (E.D. Mo. 2002) (holding that the amount in 12 controversy was satisfied where plaintiff sought compensation for past and future medical expenses, 13 lost wages, and damages for loss of enjoyment of life); In re Rezulin Prods. Liab. Litig., 133 F.
 14 Supp. 2d 272, 296 (S.D.N.Y. 2001) (holding that the amount in controversy was satisfied where 15 plaintiffs alleged economic loss, medical and health expenses, and serious medical conditions).

16 35. Plaintiffs also seek punitive damages,¹⁹ which are included in the calculation of the 17 amount in controversy. See Bell v. Preferred Life Assurance Soc'y, 320 U.S. 238, 240 (1943).

18 36. The totality of these factors establishes that the amount in controversy meets the 19 jurisdictional requirement.

CONCLUSION

21 37. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446 (d), a copy of this Notice of Removal is being filed with 22 the clerk of the Superior Court of California, County of San Francisco.

23 38. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446 (d), Guidant is providing written notice to Plaintiffs.

24 WHEREFORE, Guidant Corporation, Guidant Sales Corporation, Cardiac Pacemakers, Inc.
 25 and Boston Scientific Corporation hereby remove the action now pending against them in the

JUDICIAL PANEL ON MULTIDISTRICT LITIGATION

NOV - 7 2005

RELEASED FOR PUBLICATION

FILED

DOCKET NO. 1708

BEFORE THE JUDICIAL PANEL ON MULTIDISTRICT LITIGATION

IN RE GUIDANT CORP. IMPLANTABLE DEFIBRILLATORS PRODUCTS LIABILITY LITIGATION

BEFORE WM. TERRELL HODGES, CHAIRMAN, JOHN F. KEENAN, D.
LOWELL JENSEN, J. FREDERICK MOTZ, ROBERT L. MILLER, JR., KATHRYN H. VRATIL AND DAVID R. HANSEN, JUDGES OF THE PANEL

TRANSFER ORDER

This litigation currently consists of two actions in the District of Minnesota and one action each in the Central District of California, Southern District of Florida, Southern District of Indiana and Eastern District of New York as listed on the attached Schedule A.¹ Before the Panel are two motions, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1407, that taken together seek centralization for coordinated or consolidated pretrial proceedings of the six actions. Plaintiff in one District of Minnesota action and plaintiff in the Southern District of Indiana action both seek centralization in the district in which their respective actions are pending. Defendants Guidant Corp., Guidant Sales Corp., and Cardiac Pacemakers, Inc. (collectively Guidant) initially opposed the motions, but now agree that centralization is warranted; however, the defendants propose the Northern District of Illinois as transferee district. Plaintiffs in all actions before the Panel agree that centralization is appropriate, as do plaintiffs in numerous potential tag-along actions, but some responding plaintiffs suggest transferee districts other than those proposed by the movants and Guidant, including the Northern District of California, Southern District of Florida, Eastern District of New York, Northern District of Ohio, and Eastern District of Pennsylvania, among others.

On the basis of the papers filed and hearing session held, the Panel finds that these six actions involve common questions of fact, and that centralization under Section 1407 in the District of Minnesota will serve the convenience of the parties and witnesses and promote the just and efficient conduct of this litigation. These actions share allegations that certain implantable defibrillator devices manufactured by Guidant were defective and caused injury, or the threat of injury, to the plaintiffs and putative class members. Plaintiffs in some potential tag-along actions also bring claims related to pacemakers manufactured by Guidant. All devices at issue in these actions have been the subject of written warnings, medical advisories; recalls, or some combination thereof. Centralization under Section 1407 is necessary in order to eliminate duplicative discovery; prevent inconsistent pretrial rulings, especially with respect to class certification; and conserve the resources of the parties, their counsel and the judiciary.

Given the varied locations of parties and witnesses in this docket and the geographic dispersal of pending actions, it is clear that a wide array of suitable transferee districts presents itself. In concluding that the District of Minnesota is an appropriate forum for this docket, we observe that this district, where at least ten actions are already pending before one judge, is a geographically central, metropolitan district equipped with the resources that this complex products liability litigation is likely to require. The District of Minnesota also has a nexus to this docket given the location there of key Guidant facilities involved in the development and manufacturing of the relevant devices.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1407, the actions listed on Schedule A and pending outside the District of Minnesota are transferred to the District of Minnesota and, with the consent of that court, assigned to the Honorable Donovan W. Frank for coordinated or consolidated pretrial proceedings with the actions listed on Schedule A and pending in that district.

CORPORATION; ASHLEY & McMULLENbusiness entity form unknown; and DOES 1 through 20, inclusive,

Defendants.

INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiffs, by their undersigned counsel, individually and in their representative capacities, hereby bring this Complaint against Defendants GUIDANT CORPORATION ("Guidant Corp."), GUIDANT SALES CORPORATION ("Guidant Sales"), CARDIAC PACEMAKERS, INC. ("CPI") and BOSTON SCIENTIFIC CORPORATION ("Boston Scientific") (all hereinafter collectively referred to as "Defendants" or "Guidant" or "Guidant Defendants"), ASHLEY &

1 MCMULLEN-WING SUN MORTUARY, ASHY & MCMULLEN, and DOES 1 through 20, for 2 compensatory, equitable, and injunctive relief. Plaintiffs make the following allegations based upon
3 their personal knowledge with respect to their own acts, and, upon information and belief, as well 4 as upon their respective attorneys' investigative efforts, as to the actions and misconduct of 5 GUIDANT, ASHLEY & MCMULLEN-WING SUN MORTUARY and ASHLEY & MCMULLEN.

6 PARTIES

7 2. Plaintiff RAYMOND SAAD was a citizen and resident of the State of California. Mr.
8 Saad had a severe cardiovascular condition that necessitated the use of an implantable cardiac
9 pacemaker/defibrillator. On or about October 7, 2004, Mr. Saad was implanted with a Guidant
10 Contak Renewal cardiac resynchronization therapy defibrillator, also known as the "CRT-D," or the 11 "Model H135." On or about October 30, 2005, Mr. Saad died of heart failure.

12 3. Plaintiff SETA SAAD is a citizen and resident of the State of California. She is the 13 widow and successor-in-interest of RAYMOND SAAD.

14 4. Plaintiff CHRISTIAN E. SAAD is a citizen and resident of the State of California.
15 He is the son and successor-in-interest of RAYMOND SAAD.

16 5. Defendant GUIDANT CORP. is an Indiana corporation, with its principal place of 17 business at 111 Monument Circle, 29th Floor, Indianapolis, Indiana. Guidant Corp. develops 18 technology to treat conditions such as heart disease, neurological disorders, and vascular illness.
19 Guidant's CRM Division is the division that develops, researches, advertises, promotes, markets,
20 and sells all of Guidant's ICDs, some of which are marketed under the trade names Ventak Prizm, 21 Contak Renewal, and Vitality. CRM Division's operations are principally conducted out of its 22 facilities at 4100 Hamline Avenue North, St. Paul, Minnesota.

23 6. Defendant GUIDANT CORP. sells its ICDs and pacemakers through its wholly-24 owned subsidiary, Defendant GUIDANT SALES CORPORATION. Guidant Sales is an Indiana
25 corporation, with its principal place of business at 111 Monument Circle in Indianapolis, Indiana.

26 7. Defendant CARDIAC PACEMAKERS, INC., a Minnesota corporation, developed 27 Guidant's ICDs and pacemakers. CPI was merged into Guidant in or about September 1994, and is 28 now a wholly-owned subsidiary of Guidant Corp., with headquarters at 4100 Hamline Ave. North,

1 St. Paul, Minnesota.

2 8. Defendant BOSTON SCIENTIFIC describes itself as a worldwide developer, 3 manufacturer, and marketer of medical devices, whose products are used in a broad range of 4 interventional medical specialties with reported revenue of $6.3 billion in 2005. Boston Scientific 5 is incorporated in the State of Delaware with its principal executive office located in Natick,
6 Massachusetts. In January 2006, Boston Scientific entered into an agreement to acquire Guidant
7 Corp. and its subsidiaries for approximately $27 billion. Pending final approval of that merger,
8 which has been approved by Guidant's stockholders, Boston Scientific is the successor in interest
9 to Guidant and, directly or indirectly, has assumed Guidant's liabilities in this litigation.

10 9. Defendant ASHLEY & McMULLEN-WING SUN MORTUARY is a business entity, 11 form unknown, that operates a mortuary located at 4200 Geary Boulevard, San Francisco, CA 94118.

12 10. Defendant ASHLEY & MCMULLEN is a business entity, form unknown, that 13 operates the aforementioned mortuary, located at 4200 Geary Boulevard, San Francisco, CA 94118.

14 11. Plaintiffs are ignorant of the true names and capacities of those Defendants named 15 as DOES 1 through 20 (hereinafter "Doe Defendants"), and for that reason have sued these 16 Defendants by fictitious names. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and on that basis allege, that 17 each of the fictitiously named Defendants are in some way liable and legally responsible for the 18 damages and injuries set forth in this Complaint. Plaintiffs will seek leave of the Court to amend 19 this Complaint to identify these Defendants when their identities are determined.

20 12. In doing the things alleged in this Complaint, Defendants acted as the agents, 21 servants, employees and alter-egos of their Co-Defendants. Defendants acted within the course and 22 scope of their agency and employment, and acted with knowledge, consent and approval of their Co-
23 Defendants. Their conduct was approved and ratified by their Co-Defendants.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

25 13. This Court has jurisdiction over all causes of action asserted in this Complaint
26 pursuant to the California Constitution, Article VI, § 10, because this case is a cause of action not 27 assigned by statute to other trial courts.

28 14. This Court has jurisdiction over each Defendant named in this Complaint because

1 each Defendant is an individual who is either domiciled in California or has sufficient minimum
2 contacts with California so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction by this Court permissible under 3 traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

4 15. Venue is proper in this Court in accordance with California Code of Civil Procedure
5 § 395(a), because the injuries complained of in this Complaint were injuries to a person or persons,
6 and were also injuries leading to death from a wrongful act or negligence, and said injuries occurred
7 either entirely or substantially in the County where this Court sits.

8 16. The relief sought by each individual Plaintiff is within the jurisdictional limits of this 9 Court.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL CLAIMS

I. GUIDANT CORPORATE STRUCTURE

12 17. Guidant Corp. and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, Guidant Sales and CPI, design, 13 research, develop, manufacture, test, market, advertise, promote, distribute, and sell products that 14 treat cardiac arrhythmias, heart failure, and coronary and peripheral vascular disease. Guidant
15 Corp.'s core biomedical businesses are divided into four divisions: Cardiac Rhythm Management, 16 Cardiac Surgery, Endovascular Solutions, and Vascular Intervention.

17 18. Guidant Corp.'s products are sold through a combined sales organization, Guidant
18 Sales.

19 19. Guidant Corp.'s business units present themselves under the "Guidant" corporate 20 banner to the general public, including to the Food and Drug Administration ("FDA"), physicians, 21 and individuals. As the Independent Panel that reviewed Guidant Corp.'s device surveillance and 22 disclosure policies concluded, "the public views Guidant Corporation as a single entity, rather than 23 a group of individual businesses." (See Independent Panel Report, at p. 16). Guidant Corp.
24 promotes such a view by, among other things, including the Guidant logo on all device marketing 25 materials.

26 20. Guidant Corp.'s business units have their own officers but are also tied together at 27 the corporate level by a structure by which Guidant Corp. oversees the business units, including 28 through the Guidant Management Committee.

1 21. The products of Guidant Corp.'s CRM Division include ICDs, pacemakers, and lead
 2 systems. ICDs are implanted medical devices used to detect and treat abnormally fast and irregular
 3 heart rhythms, each of which can stop or hinder the heart from pumping blood effectively throughout 4 the body and can result in sudden cardiac death. Pacemakers are medical devices used to detect and 5 treat abnormally slow heart rhythms.

6 22. Guidant holds itself out as "the world leader in the design and development of 7 cardiovascular medical products." (See Guidant Corp., Corporate Overview, [http://www.
 8 Guidant.com/about_us.shtml](http://www.Guidant.com/about_us.shtml)). ICDs have been Guidant Corp.'s fastest growing product for at least 9 the last three years. The first ICD was placed on the market in 1985 by CPI, now wholly-owned by 10 Guidant Corp. Between 2002 and 2004, Guidant Corp.'s revenues for sales of ICDs jumped 80% to 11 $1.786 billion.

12 II. OVERVIEW OF IMPLANTABLE DEVICES FOR CARDIAC
 13 RHYTHM MANAGEMENT

14 23. Cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of death for both men and women in the 15 United States. Implantable devices for cardiac rhythm management have become an integral part 16 of cardiovascular therapy. Implantable pacemakers for individuals with bradycardia (a slow 17 heartbeat) were introduced more than 40 years ago, and the first ICD was implanted in 1980. (As 18 used hereinafter, the term "Implantable Device" will refer to pacemakers and/or ICDs manufactured
 19 and sold by Defendants.). Thereafter, specialized pacemakers called cardiac resynchronization 20 devices that improve the mechanical function of the heart were introduced and combined with 21 existing ICD technology. Today, Implantable Devices are also commonly used for treatment of 22 arrhythmia (an irregular heartbeat).

23 24. There has been explosive growth in ICD use. There are now, in just the United 24 States, well over one million individuals living with an implanted cardiac rhythm device and this 25 number is increasing rapidly. In 2005, approximately 200,000 people in the United States were 26 implanted with ICDs.

27 25. The ICDs designed, manufactured and distributed into the stream of commerce by 28 Guidant consist of three components: (1) a small rectangular generator, approximately two inches

1 wide, which is implanted under the skin just below the collarbone; (2) insulated wires- or leads-
2 which are attached to the generator and threaded through a vein to the heart, to carry the electric 3 current from the generator; and (3) two electrodes, located at the tip of each lead, which deliver an 4 electric shock to the heart.

5 26. The purpose of the ICD is to correct abnormal heart rhythm. The ICD can generate 6 a series of precisely timed, low-intensity, electrical pulses to reset the heart to normal rhythm when 7 the heart beats faster than normal (tachycardia); or the ICD can deliver sudden shocks to the heart
8 to stop potentially fatal heart quivering (ventricular fibrillation). In addition, the ICD may be 9 programmed as a pacemaker to send small electric signals if the heart beats too slowly (bradycardia).

10 27. Implantable CRT-D devices are medical devices that treat heart failure by helping the 11 lower chamber (ventricles) pump synchronously with the upper chambers (atria), while preventing 12 the heart from beating too slowly (bradycardia) and shocking or "over-drive pacing" of heartbeat 13 rhythms that are too fast (a process by which the CRT-D is paced briefly at a rhythm faster than the 14 desired rhythm in order to recapture control of the heartbeat).

15 28. All ICDs function as both pacemakers and defibrillators. The ICD can detect and 16 correct both fast and slow heart rates. The ICD corrects the slow rates and can "over-drive pace"
17 rapid rates and it also can administer shocks to treat ventricular tachycardia and ventricular 18 fibrillation.

19 29. ICDs are used in individuals, like Plaintiffs, who have arrhythmias or irregular
20 heartbeats that are considered life-threatening. These can include individuals with ventricular 21 fibrillation (rapid, ineffective contraction of the ventricles of the heart), ventricular tachycardia 22 (excessively rapid heartbeat) that is poorly controlled by medication, or significant thickening of the 23 heart muscle resulting in arrhythmia. Such conditions can result in the loss of consciousness or 24 death, unless the affected individual receives therapy from an appropriate device to put the heart
25 back into a normal cardiac rhythm. Pacemakers are used in individuals, like Plaintiffs, who have 26 bradycardia that is uncontrolled by medicine alone.

27 30. If an implanted ICD operates properly, it can save an individual's life. If it fails to 28 operate properly, the individual could die within minutes.

31. Since 1958, pacemakers have been sold for implantation in individuals who have had certain spontaneous and/or inducible life-threatening arrhythmias, bradycardia, heart block, and congestive heart failure and those who are at high risk of developing bradycardia, heart block, or arrhythmias. Pacemakers are used to manage disorders that disrupt the heart's normal electrical conduction system.

6 32. Pacemakers are designed to be implanted under the skin of the chest wall. The 7 device's power source (pulse generator) is implanted in a pouch formed under the collarbone, just 8 under the skin, usually on the upper left chest. Wires, called leads, are inserted through a blood
9 vessel and attached directly into the heart. These wires, which are connected to the pacemaker or 10 pulse generator, are capable of both sensing a problematic heart rate and stimulating a more 11 appropriate heart rate.

12 33. Some individuals are very dependent on pacemakers to maintain an adequate heart 13 rate, and therefore, cardiac output. For these individuals, failure of the cardiac pacemaker to provide 14 pacing can cause sudden faintness, or loss of consciousness, and can result in death.

15 34. At all times relevant, Guidant misrepresented the safety of its ICDs and pacemakers 16 and negligently manufactured, marketed, advertised, promoted, sold, and distributed those ICDs and 17 pacemakers as safe devices to be used for treatment of individuals with prior myocardial infarction, 18 arrhythmias, and individuals who are at high risk for developing such arrhythmias.

III. THE DEVICE AT ISSUE

35. As detailed below, this Complaint seeks recovery for injuries arising from the implantation of Guidant's Contak Renewal 1 Model H135, hereinafter referred to as the "H135 Device" or the "Device." The H135 Device is a heart regulating device, or defibrillator.

IV. THE FEDERAL REGULATORY SCHEME GOVERNING DESIGN, TESTING DISTRIBUTION AND RECALL OF THE DEVICE

25 36. As part of the conditions of approval for the Device, Defendants must ensure that no
26 changes be made to the Device that would affect its safety or effectiveness without submission of 27 a Pre-Market Approval (“PMA”) supplement for review and approval, and that a PMA supplement
28

1 must be submitted when a device failure necessitates a labeling, manufacturing, or device
2 modification. Violation of such conditions voids their approval.

3 37. The removal of Device from the market and other corrective actions taken by Guidant
4 have been classified as Class I or Class II recalls under federal regulations—the highest levels of such 5 recalls.

6 38. Under federal regulation “[r]ecall means a firm’s removal or correction of a marketed
7 product that the Food and Drug Administration considers to be in violation of the laws it administers
8 and against which the agency would initiate legal action, e.g., seizure.” (21 C.F.R. § 7.3(g) (2006)).

9 39. The classification of a recall as Class I, II, or III “indicate[s] the relative degree of 10 health hazard presented by the product being recalled.” (Id. § 7.3(m)). “Class I is a situation in which 11 there is a reasonable probability that the use of, or exposure to, a violative product will cause serious
12 adverse health consequences or death.” (Id. § 7.3 (m)(1)). “Class II is a situation in which use of, or 13 exposure to, a violative product may cause temporary or medically reversible adverse health
14 consequences or where the probability of serious adverse health consequences is remote.” (Id. § 7.3 15 (m)(2)).

16 40. A device is deemed to be adulterated if, among other things, it fails to meet
17 established performance standards, or if the methods, facilities, or controls used for its manufacture,
18 packing, storage, or installation are not in conformity with federal regulations. (See 21 U.S.C. § 351 19 (2006)).

20 41. A device is deemed to be misbranded if, among other things, its labeling is false or 21 misleading in any particular way, or if it is dangerous to health when used in the manner prescribed, 22 recommended or suggested in the labeling thereof. (See 21 U.S.C. § 352).

23 42. Manufacturers are required to comply with FDA regulation of medical devices, 24 including FDA regulations relating to records and reports, in order to prohibit introduction of 25 medical devices that are adulterated or misbranded, and to assure the safety and effectiveness of 26 medical devices. In particular, manufacturers must keep records and make reports if any medical 27 device may have caused or contributed to death or serious injury, or if the device has malfunctioned
28 in a manner likely to cause or contribute to death or serious injury. Federal law also mandates that

1 the FDA establish regulations requiring a manufacturer of a medical device to report promptly to 2 FDA any correction or removal of a device undertaken to reduce a risk to health posed by the device,
3 or to remedy a violation of federal law by which a device may present a risk to health. (See 21
4 U.S.C. § 360i).

5 43. Adverse events associated with a medical device must be reported to FDA within 30
6 days after the manufacturer becomes aware that a device may have caused or contributed to death
7 or serious injury, or that a device has malfunctioned and would be likely to cause or contribute to 8 death or serious injury if the malfunction was to recur. Such reports must contain all information
9 reasonably known to the manufacturer, including any information that can be obtained by analysis, 10 testing, or other evaluation of the device, and any information in the manufacturer's possession. In 11 addition, manufacturers are responsible for conducting an investigation of each adverse event, and 12 must evaluate the cause of the adverse event. (See 21 C.F.R. § 803.50).

13 44. Manufacturers of medical devices must also describe in every individual adverse 14 event report whether remedial action was taken in regard to the adverse event, and whether the 15 remedial action was reported to the FDA as a removal or correction of the device. (See 21 C.F.R. § 16 803.52).

17 45. Manufacturers must report to the FDA in five business days after becoming aware 18 of any reportable medical device reporting ("MDR"). MDR events require the manufacturer to 19 conduct a trend analysis that necessitates remedial action to prevent an unreasonable risk of 20 substantial harm to public health. (See 21 C.F.R. § 803.53).

21 46. Device manufacturers must report promptly to the FDA any device corrections and 22 removals, and maintain records of device corrections and removals. FDA regulations require 23 submission of a written report within ten working days of any correction or removal of a device
24 initiated by the manufacturer to reduce a risk to health posed by the device, or to remedy a violation
25 of federal law caused by the device that may present a risk to health. The written submission must 26 contain, among other things, a description of the event giving rise to the information reported and 27 the corrective or removal actions taken, and any illness or injuries that have occurred with use of the 28 device, including reference to any device report numbers. Manufacturers must also indicate the total

1 number of devices manufactured or distributed which are subject to the correction or removal, and 2 provide a copy of all communications regarding the correction or removal. (See 21 C.F.R. § 806.10).

3 47. Manufacturers must comply with quality system regulations that require
4 manufacturers to meet design-control requirements, including but not limited to conducting design
5 validation to ensure that devices conform to defined user needs and intended uses. Manufacturers
6 must also meet quality standards in manufacture and production. Manufacturers must establish and 7 maintain procedures for implementing corrective actions and preventive actions, and investigate the 8 cause of nonconforming product and take corrective action to prevent recurrence. Manufacturers are 9 required to review and evaluate all complaints and determine whether an investigation is necessary.
10 Manufacturers are also required to use statistical techniques where necessary to evaluate product
11 performance. (See generally 21 C.F.R. § 820).

12 48. A manufacturer must report to the FDA through a PMA supplement any new 13 indications for use of a device, labeling changes, or changes in the performance or design 14 specifications, circuits, components, ingredients, principle of operation, or physical layout of the 15 device. A manufacturer may implement changes to a device that enhance the safety of the device
16 prior to obtaining FDA approval, if the manufacturer submits a special report entitled: "Special PMA 17 Supplement -Changes Being Effected" and provides a full explanation of any labeling changes or 18 changes in quality control or manufacturing process that add a new specification of test method, or 19 otherwise provide additional assurance of purity, strength, or reliability of the device.

20 49. Federal regulations require that: "A PMA supplement must be submitted when 21 unanticipated adverse effects, increases in the incidence of anticipated adverse effects, or device 22 failures necessitate a labeling, manufacturing, or device modification." (Conditions of Approval at 23 1, attached to FDA Approval Letter from Daniel G. Schultz, Deputy Director for Clinical Policy, 24 FDA, to Kaye Anderson, Senior U.S. Regulatory Affairs Associate, Guidant Corporation (July 18, 25 2002); see 21 C.F.R. § 814.39).

26 50. Guidant's failure to meet federal regulations applicable to medical devices and 27 Guidant's other acts and omissions as described herein directly and proximately caused the H135
28

1 Device to be in violation of federal law and unfit for sale, and proximately caused harm, injury, and,
2 in the case of Raymond Saad, death

3 51. Plaintiffs' state law claims are based on parallel state law provisions that do not 4 conflict with federal law.

V. HISTORY OF THE DEVICE

6 52. As previously noted, Guidant manufactured CRT-D, also known as Contak Renewal
7 Model H135.

8 53. In or before November 2003, Guidant became aware that the H135 Device was prone 9 to short-circuiting.

54. From November 2003 to May 2005, Guidant knew of multiple instances in which the H135 Device had short circuited, including that the short circuiting had resulted in at least one death.

55. While Guidant knew that the H135 Device was defective, it failed to disclose the defect to the FDA, the medical community, and the public, and continued to sell the H135 Device with the defect. Not until September 2004 did Guidant consider stopping the sale of the defective device, and even then, determined that the Guidant sales staff should misrepresent to the medical community the reason for any resulting inventory back-orders in order to avoid questions that could lead to explanation of existing defective device.

18 56. In January 2005, Guidant considered withdrawing the H135 Device from the market
19 because of the defect, but concluded that Guidant would not disclose the defect or withdraw the 20 device from the market.

21 57. On June 17, 2005, only after Guidant had been forced to disclose the defects in other 22 Guidant devices (for instance, the Ventak Prizm 2 DR 1861) and the FDA had initiated a review of 23 these other devices, did Guidant issue a letter to doctors disclosing the defective nature of the H135.
24 Specifically, as to the H135, Guidant stated that its laboratory analysis had proven that the Contak
25 Renewal 1 & 2 had failed due to "deterioration in a wire insulator within the lead connector block
26 [which,] in conjunction with other factors, could cause a short circuit and loss of device function due 27 to diversion of therapy energy away from the heart and into device circuitry." (Guidant Corp., 28 Urgent Medical Device Safety Information & Corrective Action: Contak Renewal Model H135 and

1 Contak Renewal 2 Model H155 Devices Manufactured on or Before August 26, 2004 at 1 (June 17, 2 2005) ("June 17 Contak Renewal 1 & 2 Letter").

3 58. Guidant stated that there was no way of predicting whether "any particular device will 4 fail." (Id. at 3). According to the June 17 Contak Renewal 1 & 2 Letter, fifteen reports of the 5 malfunction had been confirmed, at least, one of which was fatal, and approximately 16,000 of the 6 devices had been implanted worldwide. (See id. at 1).

7 59. Since the June 17 Contak Renewal 1 & 2 Letter, more reports of the malfunction have 8 been confirmed by Guidant and at least three more deaths have been associated with the Contak
9 Renewal 1 & 2 defect.

10 60. Guidant further advised physicians to consider performing a commanded shock of 11 the ICD to confirm the integrity of the high-voltage delivery system, and warned physicians that 12 Devices that had failed should be explanted and replaced with new Devices.

13 61. Guidant also stated that, in regard to the H135 Device, it had "implemented design
14 and manufacturing corrective actions to address internal shorting within the device header. No
15 devices manufactured after August 26, 2004 have exhibited this failure." (Id. at 3).

16 62. Once again, despite the fact that Guidant made manufacturing changes on or around
17 August 26, 2004, which it represented had corrected the defect in the H135 device, Guidant failed
18 to inform physicians, patients, and the public until the June 17 Contak Renewal 1 & 2 Letter.

19 63. In June 2005, Guidant recommended that physicians assess whether to replace the 20 H135 device. In September 2005, Guidant recommended that physicians reassess device 21 replacement "as a result of the increased projected rate of occurrence." (Guidant Corp., Advisory 22 Update: Contak Renewal and Contak Renewal 2, Models H135 and H155 (Sept. 12, 2005)).

23 64. Guidant has stated that its estimation of the level of device malfunction in the H135
24 Device is likely to be understated because the actual number of clinical failures may be greater than 25 the number reported and its predictive modeling is inherently uncertain.

26 65. The FDA has classified the action taken by Guidant with regard to the H135 Device
27 as a Class I recall. The recall requires Guidant to disclose the device malfunction to individuals and 28 doctors while providing additional instructions for safe use of the devices.

1 66. Meanwhile, Guidant had concluded that the polyimide insulation tubing used in the 2 H135 device was susceptible to cracking that could result in short circuiting of the device.

3 67. In December 2005, the FDA reported that there had been at least five deaths
 4 associated with the defect in the H135 device and that additional clinical occurrences are likely.

5 68. At all times relevant to this action, Guidant knew, and had reason to know, that the 6 H135 Device was not safe for the individuals for whom they were prescribed and implanted, because 7 the device malfunctioned, and therefore failed to operate in a safe and continuous manner, causing 8 serious medical problems and, in certain individuals, catastrophic injuries and deaths.

9 69. Guidant has continued to issue advisories regarding the H135 Device. Guidant's latest
 10 advisory, on March 11, 2006, stated that H135 device may exhibit a decline in battery voltage related 11 to an unexpected sustained, low level current. (See Guidant Corp., Urgent Medical Device Safety 12 Information & Corrective Action: Guidant Renewal 3 RF & Renewal 4 RF (CRT-Ds) at 1 (Mar. 11, 13 2006)). Although Guidant claims that the defect can only occur during storage/shipment mode prior 14 to implant, Guidant also states that it has confirmed that the internal low level current may occur 15 "transiently" in normal use post implant.

16 70. Guidant has advised that the FDA may classify this communication regarding the 17 H135 device as a recall.

18 VI. GUIDANT'S PAST AND PRESENT ILLEGAL AND 19 REPREHENSIBLE CONDUCT

20 A. Guidant's Failure To Meet Basic Manufacturing & Regulatory Standards

21 71. The FDA conducted an inspection of Guidant's facilities during the time period of 22 August 22, 2005 to September 1, 2005. At the conclusion of the inspection, the FDA issued a 483
 23 Inspection Report ("FDA 483"), in which it detailed violations of federal regulations by Guidant.
 24 (See FDA 483 Inspection Report (Sept. 1, 2005) ("Sept. 1 FDA 483").

25 72. The stated purpose of the FDA 483 is "to assist the firms inspected in complying with 26 the Acts and regulations enforced by the Food and Drug Administration." (FDA 483 Inspection
 27 Report at 2 (Feb. 8, 2006) ("Feb. 8 FDA 483").

1 73. Included in the Sept. 1 FDA 483 for Guidant were the following fifteen observations
2 of violations noted by FDA:

- 3 (a) procedures for conducting quality audits were incomplete;
- 4 (b) “[n]ot all of the actions needed to correct and prevent the recurrence of 5 nonconforming product and other quality problems have been identified;”
- 6 (c) procedures were not completed and implemented for monitoring and controlling of 7 process parameters for validated processes;
- 8 (d) “[a] process whose results cannot be fully verified by subsequent inspection and test 9 has not been validated and approved according to established procedures;”
- 10 (e) “[p]rocedures to ensure that equipment is routinely maintained were not established;”
- 11 (f) “[d]uring production, component and device characteristics are not fully monitored 12 and controlled;”
- 13 (g) “[p]rocedures for changes to methods were not complete;”
- 14 (h) management with executive responsibility has not ensured that an adequate and 15 effective quality system has been implemented and maintained at all levels of the 16 organization;
- 17 (i) “[s]oftware used as part of production and the quality system has not been fully 18 validated for its intended use according to an established protocol,” and electronic 19 records which are used do not have requirements to ensure that they are trustworthy, 20 reliable, and generally equivalent to paper records;
- 21 (j) “appropriate sources of quality data are not adequately analyzed to identify existing 22 and potential causes of nonconforming product and other quality problems;”
- 23 (k) processes have not been approved and electronic records do not meet employee 24 accountability/responsibility policy and signature manifestation requirements to 25 ensure that they are trustworthy, reliable and generally equivalent to paper records;
- 26 (l) “[t]he document control procedures do not designate an individual to review 27 documents for adequacy and approve them prior to issuance;”

- 1 (m) “[r]ework and reevaluation activities have not been documented in the device history 2 records;”
3 (n) “[d]ocument control procedures are not complete;” and 4 (o) the device history record does not include complete acceptance records that 5 demonstrate the device is manufactured in accordance with the device master record.
6 Feb. 8 FDA 483 at 1-6.

7 74. The findings of the FDA inspection of August and September 2005 confirm that 8 Guidant was violating federal and state law in manufacturing the Device.

9 75. From December 2005 to February 2006, the FDA again inspected Guidant’s
10 manufacturing facilities and found further egregious violations of basic manufacturing standards
11 fundamental to federal and state law. (See Feb. 8 FDA 483). Specifically, the FDA found that 12 Guidant had failed to disclose the AVT device defects that it had known about since May 2002 and 13 had attempted to correct through revised software implemented by May 2004. (See id.).

14 76. The FDA’s inspections led to recalls of the H135 Device and specifically criticized 15 Guidant’s manufacturing and disclosure processes, stating that Guidant had failed to establish 16 adequate procedures in violation of federal regulations.

17 77. Moreover, with respect to the H135 Device, Defendants failed to comply with FDA
18 regulations and the Conditions of Approval relating to relevant PMA and PMA Supplements.

19 78. The claims alleged herein set forth sufficient facts to establish manufacturing defects
20 with respect to the H135 Device.

21 79. No claims alleged herein are preempted under any provisions of the Medical Device
22 Act or FDA regulations.

23 80. Guidant’s failure to meet federal regulations applicable to medical devices and 24 Guidant’s other acts and omissions as described herein directly and proximately caused the Devices
25 to be in violation of federal and state law, and proximately caused harm and injury to Plaintiffs.

28

B. Guidant's Concealment of the Device Defects

2 81. Guidant's failure to disclose accurately and adequately the known defects in the H135
3 Device and concealment of known defects from the FDA, the medical community, and from 4 Plaintiffs constitutes fraudulent concealment that equitably tolls applicable statutes of limitation.

5 82. No Plaintiff could have discovered the existence of the short-circuit defect in the 6 H135 Device until at least May 2005, when the first press reports regarding the defects were 7 published.

8 83. It was not until June 17, 2005, that the public was officially notified by the FDA that 9 the agency was recalling H135 Device. At no point prior to June 17, 2005, did Guidant notify any 10 Plaintiff, the medical community, or the public that the H135 Device was defective.

11 84. Meanwhile, although Guidant regularly issued Product Performance Reports
12 purporting to disclose information regarding the Device, it was not until late 2005 that such Product 13 Performance Reports included any information from which a reader could discern that Guidant was 14 aware of potentially life-threatening malfunctions that could occur in the Device.

15 85. Guidant's failure to properly disclose the known defects in the H135 Device and 16 Guidant's active concealment of the known defects from the FDA, the medical community, and 17 Plaintiffs constitutes fraudulent concealment that equitably tolls applicable statutes of limitation.

18 86. Guidant is estopped from relying on the statute of limitations defense because it
19 actively concealed the ICD defects by suppressing reports, failing to follow through on FDA 20 notification regulations, and failing to disclose known defects to the medical community, the public, 21 or the Plaintiffs.

22 87. Instead of revealing the defects, Guidant continued to represent the H135 Device as 23 safe for its intended use.

24 88. Guidant's conduct, as described in the preceding paragraphs, amounts to conduct that 25 Guidant must have realized was dangerous, heedless and reckless, without regard to the 26 consequences or to the rights and safety of Plaintiffs.

27. 89. At all times relevant to this action, Guidant knew, and had reason to know, that the 28 H135 Device was not safe for the individuals for whom it was prescribed and implanted, because

1 the Device short circuited and otherwise malfunctioned, and therefore failed to operate in a safe and 2 continuous manner, causing serious medical problems and, in some individuals, catastrophic injuries 3 and deaths.

4 90. As a result of defects in both the design and the manufacture of the H135 Device
5 (defects which Guidant concealed), Guidant knew and had reason to know that the Device would 6 fail to function properly, and have a significantly decreased life expectancy.

7 91. Further, Guidant knew and had reason to know that the life expectancy of the Device
8 was significantly shorter than that which Guidant represented to the FDA, the medical community, 9 and those in whom the Device was implanted. Guidant affirmatively concealed and suppressed the 10 true information about the life expectancy and reliability of the Device.

11 92. At all times relevant to this action, Guidant knew, and had reason to know, that the 12 H135 device was not safe and effective for the individuals for whom it was prescribed and 13 implanted, because after short circuiting the Device could fail to function and the internal memory
14 within the Device would be erased, thereby concealing both evidence of the short circuit and any 15 medical memory of the patient's arrhythmias in the period preceding the short-circuiting episode.
16 This malfunction prevents the doctor from properly reviewing the patient's heart rhythm history, and 17 from providing related medical services, such as possibly adjusting necessary medication. Further,
18 while Guidant has recommended that doctors consider inducing shocks to their patients to determine 19 if the devices are already malfunctioning, it is otherwise impossible for doctors to test these devices
20 to determine whether they will short circuit and fail to perform as intended.

21 93. Nonetheless, in its June 24, 2005 letter to patients, Guidant continued to falsely 22 reassure the public that “[t]he safety and well being of patients is foremost in our minds” and that 23 Guidant maintains a “steadfast dedication to patients.” (Letter from Allan Gorsett, Vice President,
24 Reliability and Quality Assurance, Guidant Corp., to Patients with Contak Renewal 1 & 2 Devices
25 at 1 (June 24, 2005)).

26 94. The Independent Panel, however, found that Guidant's quality control processes—
27 particularly with respect to post-market evaluation of the Device—were not consistent with 28 appropriate concern for patients and quality. For example, the Independent Panel concluded that no

1 medical professionals are involved in Guidant's post-market surveillance, that positions critical to 2 the assessment of Device defects were consistently understaffed by Guidant, and that the few
 3 individuals who were assigned to the important task of assessing Device defects generally lacked 4 sufficient appropriate training and expertise.

VII. THE LIFE AND DEATH OF RAYMOND SAAD

5 95. Mr. Saad had a severe cardiovascular condition that necessitates the use of an 6 implantable cardiac pacemaker/defibrillator. On or about October 7, 2004, Mr. Saad was implanted
 7 with a Guidant Contak Renewal cardiac resynchronization therapy defibrillator, also known as the 8 H135 Device.

10 96. After October 7, 2004, Mr. Saad first learned that the Guidant Contak Renewal
 11 defibrillator implanted in his body had an irregularity that could result in its failure to function. Mr.
 12 Saad suffered extreme emotional distress as a result of the knowledge of the defective nature of his 13 implanted H135 Device, and knowledge that he might have, at any time, been fatally injured because 14 of its malfunction. In addition, he was very concerned that he might get a life-threatening infection 15 of the heart (endocarditis) as a result of the replacement surgery.

16 97. On or about October 30, 2005, Mr. Saad died as a result of heart failure, attributable 17 directly to the defects in the H135 Device implanted in him.

VIII. THE ACTS AND OMISSIONS AT THE MORTUARY

19 98. At the direction of Mr. Saad's widow, Seta Saad, Mr. Saad's body was transported 20 to a mortuary in San Francisco. That mortuary was owned and operated by Ashley & McMullen and 21 Ashley & McMullen-Wing Sun Mortuary. Within a day following transport, Ms. Saad spoke with 22 a representative of Guidant on the phone. She expressed concerns regarding possible defects in the 23 device. The Guidant representative requested if Guidant could perform a non-invasive test or 24 reading of the device, which was still implanted in Mr. Saad's body. She said this would be 25 permissible as long as she could be present.

26 99. Following the phone conversation between Ms. Saad and Guidant, Guidant employee 27 Craig Lawrence contacted the mortuary and informed persons there that Guidant had authority from 28 Ms. Saad to perform a test or reading of the HR 135 device. Without confirming with Ms. Saad

1 beforehand, the Mortuary agreed to allow Guidant to perform the test. The test was performed soon
 2 thereafter by Guidant employee David McCallum. No one informed Ms. Saad that the test would 3 be taking place, and she was not present while the test was performed.

4 100. The day following the test or reading of the device, Guidant sent another agent to 5 remove the device from Mr. Saad's body. The Guidant agent who performed the removal was a
 6 person named Joseph Lopez. The extracted device was taken from the Mortuary by Guidant's agent
 7 and returned by him to Guidant. Guidant maintains custody of the device to this day.

8 101. Neither Ms. Saad nor Christian Saad granted any authority to anyone to extract the 9 device.

12 STRICT LIABILITY

13 DESIGN AND/OR MANUFACTURING DEFECT

14 (By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

15 102. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
 16 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

17 103. The H135 Device is defectively designed and/or manufactured because the 18 foreseeable risks of mechanical malfunction and failure outweigh the benefits associated with the 19 Device.

20 104. The Device was designed and/or manufactured in a manner violative of the Federal 21 Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. §§ 321 et seq. (hereinafter "FDCA"). The facilities or 22 controls used by Defendants in the manufacture, packing, storage, or installation of the Devices were 23 not in conformity with applicable FDCA regulations. The FDA has also concluded that the facilities
 24 or controls used by Defendants did not meet the FDCA regulations.

25 105. The Device was expected to and did reach the Plaintiffs without substantial change 26 or adjustment to its mechanical function before implantation.

1 106. Defendants knew or should have known of the design and/or manufacturing defect
2 and the risk of serious bodily injury that exceeded the benefits associated with the design of the 3 Devices.

4 107. Furthermore, the Device and its defects presented an unreasonably dangerous risk
5 beyond what the ordinary consumer would reasonably expect.

6 108. The Device was defective due to inadequate warnings or instruction because 7 Defendants knew or should have known that the Device created a high risk of bodily injury and 8 serious harm. Defendants failed to adequately and timely warn consumers of this risk.

9 109. The Device was inherently dangerous for its intended use due to design and/or 10 manufacturing defect and improper functioning. Defendants are therefore strictly liable.

11 110. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct, Plaintiffs have 12 sustained and will continue to sustain severe physical injuries and/or death, severe emotional
13 distress, economic losses, and other damages for which they are entitled to compensatory, equitable,
14 and declaratory relief in an amount to be proven at trial.

15 111. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special, and 16 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

COUNT II

STRICT LIABILITY - FAILURE TO WARN

(By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

20 112. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
21 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

113. At all relevant times hereto, Defendants were engaged in the development, testing, manufacturing, marketing and sales of Devices, including the H135 Device. Defendants designed, manufactured, assembled and sold these Devices to medical professionals and their patients, knowing that they would then be implanted in patients with heart disease and disorders.

26 114. Defendants distributed and sold the Devices in the condition in which they left their 27 place of manufacture, in their original form of manufacture, which included the defects described 28 herein. The Devices were expected to and did reach Plaintiffs without substantial change in their

1 condition as manufactured and sold by Defendants. At no time did Plaintiffs have reason to believe
2 that the Devices were in a condition not suitable for their proper and intended use among the patients
3 in whom they were to be implanted.

4 115. The H135 Device that was designed, developed, tested, manufactured, marketed, and 5 sold or otherwise placed into the stream of commerce by Defendants was in a dangerous and 6 defective condition and posed a threat to any user or consumer of the Device. Plaintiffs were and are 7 in a class of persons that Defendants should have considered to be subject to the harm caused by the 8 defective nature of the Device.

9 116. The H135 Device was implanted and used in the manner for which it was intended,
10 that is, for the detection, correction, and prevention of serious and/or life-threatening harm through 11 surgical implantation. This use has resulted in injury to Plaintiffs.

12 117. Plaintiffs were not able to discover, nor could they have discovered through the 13 exercise of reasonable care, the defective nature of the Device. Further, in no way could Plaintiffs 14 have known that Defendants had designed, developed, and manufactured the Device in such a way
15 as to increase the risk of harm, injury or death to the recipients of the Device.

16 118. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct, Plaintiffs have 17 sustained and will continue to sustain severe physical injuries, death, severe emotional distress, 18 economic losses and other damages for which they are entitled to compensatory and equitable 19 damages and declaratory relief in an amount to be proven at trial.

119. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special, and equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

COUNT III.

NEGLIGENCE

(By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

25 120. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
26 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

27 121. At all relevant times, Defendants owed a duty of ordinary care to Plaintiffs. This duty 28 is embodied in California Civil Code § 1714, and in the common law of this State.

1 122. Defendants breached their duty of reasonable care to Plaintiffs by incorporating a 2 defect into the design of the Devices, thereby causing Plaintiffs' injuries.

3 123. Defendants breached their duty of reasonable care to Plaintiffs by manufacturing and 4 assembling the Devices in such a manner that they could short circuit and/or otherwise fail to operate
5 and malfunction and expose Plaintiff Raymond Saad to life-threatening physical trauma.

6 124. Defendants breached their duty of reasonable care to Plaintiffs by failing to notify and 7 warn the FDA, Plaintiff Raymond Saad and his treating physicians at the earliest possible date of 8 known design or manufacturing defects in the H135 Device.

9 125. Defendants breached their duty of reasonable care to Plaintiffs by failing to obtain
10 authorization from Mrs. Saad or Christian Saad to inspect the body of Raymond Saad and perform
11 tests without her being present. They breached their duty, also, by extracting the defective device
12 from Mr. Saad's body without obtaining permission from Ms. Saad or Christian Saad.

13 126. Defendants breached their duty of reasonable care to Plaintiffs by failing to exercise
14 due care under the circumstances.

15 127. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct, Plaintiffs have 16 sustained and will continue to sustain severe emotional distress, economic losses and other damages
17 for which they are entitled to compensatory, equitable and declaratory relief in an amount and to an 18 extent to be proven at trial.

19 128. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special and 20 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

COUNT IV

NEGLIGENCE PER SE

(By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

24 129. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
25 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

26 130. Defendants have an obligation not to violate the law in the manufacture, design, 27 testing, assembly, inspection, labeling, packaging, supplying, marketing, selling, advertising,

1 preparing for use, warning of the risks and dangers of the Devices, and otherwise distributing the 2 Devices.

3 131. Defendants' acts constitute an adulteration, misbranding, or both, as defined by the 4 Federal FDCA, 21 U.S.C. §§ 331(a) and 333(a)(2), and constitute a breach of duty subjecting
5 Defendants to civil liability for all damages arising therefrom and from parallel state law
6 requirements, under theories of negligence per se.

7 132. Plaintiffs, as purchasers of the Defendants' Devices, are within the class of persons 8 the statutes and regulations described in the previous paragraph are designed to protect and 9 Plaintiffs' injuries are the type of harm these statutes and regulations are designed to prevent.

10 133. Furthermore, by gaining access to the body of Raymond Saad and extracting the 11 defective device from that body without obtaining the consent of Mr. Saad's successors-in-interest, 12 Defendants violated Penal Code §§ 487 and 642, and Health and Safety Code § 7114, thereby 13 subjecting themselves to civil liability for all damages arising therefrom.

134. Plaintiffs, as successors-in-interest and next-of-kin of Raymond Saad, are within the 135 class of persons the statutes identified in the previous paragraph are designed to protect and 136 Plaintiffs' injuries are the type of harm these statutes are designed to prevent.

17 135. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct, Plaintiffs have 18 sustained and will continue to sustain severe physical injuries and/or death, severe emotional
19 distress, economic losses and other damages for which they are entitled to compensatory, equitable,
20 and declaratory relief in an amount to be proven at trial.

136. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special, and equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

(By Plaintiffs Seta Saad and Christian Saad Against Ashlay & McMullan

and Ashley & McMullan-Wing Sun)

27 137. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For 28 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

COMPLAINT

1 138. At all relevant times, Defendants owed a duty of ordinary or reasonable care to 2 Plaintiffs to avoid causing them injury. This duty is embodied in California Civil Code § 1714, and 3 in the common law of this State.

4 139. Defendants breached their duty of ordinary or reasonable care to Plaintiffs by 5 permitting Guidant agents and employees access to Mr. Saad's body for the purpose of performing 6 tests or readings on the implanted H135 Device without obtaining the Plaintiffs' approval 7 beforehand.

8 140: Defendants breached their duty of ordinary or reasonable care to Plaintiffs by 9 permitting Guidant agents and employees access to Mr. Saad's body for the purpose of extracting 10 the implanted H135 Device from that body without obtaining the Plaintiffs' approval beforehand.

11 141. Defendants breached their duty of ordinary or reasonable care to Plaintiffs by 12 permitting Guidant agents and employees to take the extracted H135 Device from the mortuary.

14 due care under the circumstances.

143. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct, Plaintiffs have 144 sustained damage, including severe emotional distress and monetary loss, for which they are entitled 145 to compensatory, equitable, and declaratory relief in an amount to be proven at trial.

18 144. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special and
19 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

COUNT VI

BREACH OF IMPLIED WARRANTY

(By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

23 145. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
24 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

146. Defendants impliedly warranted that the H135 Device, which Defendants designed, manufactured, assembled, promoted and sold to Plaintiffs, were merchantable and fit and safe for ordinary use. Defendants further impliedly warranted that their Device, which Defendants designed, manufactured, assembled, promoted and sold to Plaintiffs, were fit for their particular purposes.

1 147. Defendants' Device was defective, unmerchantable, and unfit for ordinary use when
2 sold, and unfit for the particular purpose for which they were sold, and subjected Plaintiffs to severe
3 and permanent injuries and death. Therefore, Defendants breached the implied warranties of 4 merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose when their Device was sold to Plaintiffs, in that 5 the Device was defective and had short circuited or otherwise failed to function, or was subject to 6 an enhanced risk that it would not function, as represented and intended.

7 148. Any disclaimers of implied warranties are ineffectual as they were not provided to 8 Plaintiffs or otherwise made known to Plaintiffs. In addition, any such disclaimers are 9 unconscionable.

149. Any purported written warranty fails of its essential purpose.

11 150. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' breach of implied warranties, 12 Plaintiffs have sustained economic losses and other damages for which they are entitled to 13 compensatory and equitable relief in an amount to be proven at trial. Any disclaimer of consequential
14 damages is invalid as the limited remedy provided fails in its essential purpose to redress the harm
15 and damages to Plaintiffs in that it, in effect, provides no remedy at all for the defect necessary to 16 be redressed. In addition, any such disclaimer of consequential damages is unconscionable.

17 151. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all damages to which

BREACH OF ASSUMED CONTRACTUAL WARRANTY OBLIGATIONS

(By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

22 152. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
23 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

24 153. Defendants have acknowledged their obligations as first-party insurer by providing 25 express and/or implied warranties directly to consumers of their products, and specifically the 26 Devices:

1 154. Defendants have an obligation to repay Plaintiffs for all costs incurred with the H135
2 Device because they have acknowledged a responsibility under their warranties to make payment
3 with regard to the Device.

4 155. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct, Plaintiffs have
5 suffered damages including health care costs that have been paid by them in an amount to be proven 6 at trial.

7 156. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special and
8 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

COUNT VIII

FRAUD

(By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

12 157. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
13 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

14 158. Contrary to Defendants' representations to Plaintiffs, Defendants' H135 Device could 15 cause severe injury or death. In fact, short circuits of the Device were known to Defendants to have 16 occurred for years. At all times during the course of dealing between Defendants and Plaintiffs, 17 directly or through their physicians or other agents, Defendants misrepresented that the Device was 18 safe and effective for its intended use by affirmative misrepresentation; actively concealed and 19 knowingly or recklessly omitted material facts regarding the safety and effectiveness of the Device;
20 and/or by their course of conscious or intentional conduct succeeded in selling and marketing
21 dangerous, defective and ineffective medical devices to be implanted in the human body.

22 159. Defendants, by concealment or other action, intentionally prevented Plaintiffs,
23 Plaintiffs' physicians, and Plaintiffs' other agents from acquiring material information regarding the 24 lack of safety and effectiveness of the Device, and are subject to the same liability to Plaintiffs for 25 Plaintiffs' pecuniary losses, as though Defendants had stated the non-existence of such material
26 information regarding the Device's lack of safety and effectiveness, and dangers and defects, as 27 though Defendants had affirmatively stated the non-existence of such matters that Plaintiffs were

3 160. Defendants were under a duty and failed to discharge their duty to exercise reasonable
4 care to disclose to all Plaintiffs the defective nature of the Device, of which they had special 5 knowledge not available to Plaintiffs, and as to which they made affirmative representations in 6 violation of all applicable laws, including, inter alia, Restatement (Second) of Torts § 551 (1977).

7 161. Defendants' misrepresentations, concealment, suppression and omissions were made
8 willfully, wantonly, uniformly, deliberately or recklessly, in order to induce Plaintiffs to purchase
9 Defendants' Device and/or agree to have the Device implanted into Plaintiff Raymond Saad's body,
10 and Plaintiffs did reasonably and justifiably rely upon the material misrepresentations and omissions 11 made by the Defendants about the Device when agreeing to purchase and/or have the Devices 12 implanted.

13 162. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' fraudulent conduct, Plaintiffs have 14 suffered personal injuries and/or pecuniary losses and economic damages, including health care costs
15 that have been paid by them, or on their behalf, in an amount to be proven at trial.

16. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special, and
17. equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

COUNT IX

CONSTRUCTIVE FRAUD

(By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

21 164. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
22 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

23 165. At the time of selling the Device to Plaintiffs, Defendants were in a unique position
24 of knowledge concerning the safety and effectiveness of the H135 Device, which knowledge was 25 not possessed by Plaintiffs, and Defendants thereby held a position of superiority over Plaintiffs.

166. Through their unique knowledge and expertise regarding the defective nature of the H135 Device, and through their marketing of this device to be implanted in the human body and statements to physicians and their patients in advertisements, promotional materials, and other

1 communications, Defendants professed to Plaintiffs that they were in possession of facts
2 demonstrating that the Device was safe and effective for its intended use and was not defective.

3 167. Defendants' representations to Plaintiffs were unqualified statements made to induce 4 Plaintiffs to purchase the Device, and Plaintiffs relied upon the statements when purchasing the 5 device and having it implanted.

6 168. Defendants took unconscionable advantage of their dominant position of knowledge
7 with regard to Plaintiffs and engaged in constructive fraud in their relationship with Plaintiffs.
8 Plaintiffs reasonably relied on Defendants' representations.

9 169. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' constructive fraud, Plaintiffs have 10 suffered personal injuries, pecuniary losses, and/or economic damages, including health care costs
11 that have been paid by them, and on their behalf, in an amount to be proven at trial.

12 170. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special, and
13 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

14 COUNT X

15 NEGLIGENT INFILCTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

16 (By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

17 171. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For 18 Relief sections; and the Negligence Count of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

19 172. Defendants carelessly and negligently manufactured, marketed, and sold the H135
20 Device to Plaintiffs, carelessly and negligently concealed its defects from Plaintiffs, and carelessly
21 and negligently misrepresented the quality, safety, and usefulness of the Device. Defendants should 22 have realized that such conduct involved an unreasonable risk of causing emotional distress to 23 reasonable persons, that might, in turn, result in illness or bodily harm.

24 173. Defendants owed a duty to treating physicians and ultimate End Users of the Device, 25 including Plaintiffs, to accurately and truthfully represent the risks of the Device.

26 174. Defendants breached that duty by misrepresenting and/or failing to issue adequate 27 warnings of the risks of the Device to the Raymond Saad's treating physicians and to the Plaintiffs.
28

1 175. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct and breach of duty,
2 Plaintiffs have sustained and will continue to sustain severe emotional distress either due to physical 3 injury or a rational fear of physical injury or death or to the actual death of Raymond Saad, and are 4 entitled to recovery of damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

5 176. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special and
6 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

COUNT XI

NEGLIGENCE INFLICTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

(By Seta Saad and Christian Saad Against Ashley & McMullan and Ashley & McMullan-Wing Sun Mortuary)

11 177. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For 12 Relief sections; and the Negligence Count of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

13 178. Defendants owed a duty of ordinary or reasonable care to Plaintiffs to avoid causing 14 them, via their actions or omissions, emotional distress.

15 179. Defendants carelessly and negligently allowed Guidant's agents and employees access 16 to the body of Raymond Saad for the purpose of conducting tests or readings and extracting the 17 defective H135 Device.

18 180. The carving into the body of Raymond Saad amounted to the desecration of a corpse, 19 which all cultures, in all times, have held to be an extreme taboo. The desecration of a corpse is 20 a vile act. The act is one that gives rise to extreme revulsion. That revulsion is significantly greater 21 when felt by one whose loved one's body has been desecrated. With such revulsion is added 22 extreme heart-ache, anxiety, anger, dismay and a host of other emotions.

181. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct and breach of duty, Plaintiffs have sustained and will continue to sustain severe emotional distress due to the continuing sense of revulsion and anxiety and are thus entitled to damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

26 182. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special and
27 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

COUNT XIIINTENTIONAL INFILCTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS*(By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

183. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For Relief sections; and the intentional wrongdoing allegations of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

184. Defendants' conduct directed toward Plaintiffs, was, by act and omission, intentional, knowing, and/or reckless, and evidenced a willful intention to inflict injury upon Plaintiffs, or a reckless disregard for the rights and interests of Plaintiffs equivalent to an intentional violation of them. This conduct exceeded all bounds usually tolerated by decent and civilized society and was directed toward an inherently vulnerable cardiac patient and his family.

185. As a direct, proximate, intended, known, natural, and foreseeable result of Defendants' conduct, Plaintiffs were and are suffering injury in the form of serious, severe, extreme emotional distress that no reasonable person could or should be expected to endure.

186. Defendants are liable and accountable at law to compensate Plaintiffs for such emotional distress, and for all such damages and injuries resulting therefrom and related thereto.

187. Defendants' conduct was intentional, knowing, oppressive, fraudulent, malicious, extreme and outrageous, and done in conscious and reckless disregard of Plaintiffs' rights, thereby entitling Plaintiffs to seek to assert claims for exemplary and punitive damages, at the appropriate time under governing law, in an amount sufficient, necessary and appropriate to punish Defendants for their reprehensible conduct and to deter them and others from such conduct in the future.

188. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special and
 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

COUNT XIIIGROSS NEGLIGENCE/MALICE*(By All Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

189. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

1 190. The wrongs done by Defendants were aggravated by the kind of malice, fraud, and 2 reckless disregard for the rights of others, the public, and Plaintiffs for which the law would allow,
3 and which Plaintiffs will seek at the appropriate time under governing law for the imposition of 4 exemplary damages, in that Defendants' conduct: was specifically intended to cause substantial 5 injury to Plaintiffs; or when viewed objectively from Defendants' standpoint at the time of the 6 conduct, involved an extreme degree of risk, considering the probability and magnitude of the 7 potential harm to others, and Defendants were actually, subjectively aware of the risk involved, but 8 nevertheless proceeded with conscious indifference to the rights, safety, or welfare of others; or 9 included a material representation that was false, with Defendants knowing that it was false or with 10 reckless disregard as to its truth and as a positive assertion, with the intent that the representation is 11 acted on by Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs relied on the representation and suffered injury as a proximate result 12 of this reliance.

13 191. Plaintiffs therefore will seek to assert claims for exemplary damages at the appropriate 14 time under governing law in an amount within the jurisdictional limits of the Court. Plaintiffs also 15 allege that the acts and omissions of named Defendants, whether taken singularly or in combination
16 with others, constitute gross negligence that proximately caused the injuries to Plaintiffs. In that 17 regard, Plaintiffs will, as noted, seek exemplary damages in an amount that would punish Defendants 18 for their conduct and which would deter other manufacturers from engaging in such misconduct in 19 the future.

COUNT XIV

UNFAIR COMPETITION AND UNFAIR BUSINESS PRACTICES

(California Business and Professions Code Sections 17000 et seq. and 17200 et seq.)

(By all Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

24 192. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
25 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

26 193. Defendants are "persons" as defined under California Business and Professions Code
27 § 17021.54. Each of the directors, officers and/or agents of Defendants are equally responsible for 28 the acts of the others as set forth in California Business and Professions Code § 17095.55.

1 194. Defendants manufactured and sold various heart regulating and heart monitoring
2 devices, including the H135 Device, to the "public" as defined in Business and Professions Code
3 §§ 17022 and 17024.

4 195. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that for the last four years, Defendants have unfairly
5 and unlawfully designed, manufactured, marketed, distributed and sold the H135 Device to the 6 public. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, that Defendants' conduct occurred in violation of Federal 7 Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. §§ 321 et seq. and other portion of the federal regulatory 8 scheme described in Sections IV and VI of this Complaint.

9 196. Defendants' failure to abide by the aforementioned federal regulatory scheme is either 10 unfair and/or an offense punishable by statutory fine and/or imprisonment for each violation.
11 Defendants' acts constitute a continuing and ongoing unfair and unlawful activity prohibited by 12 California Business and Professions Code sections 17200 et seq., and justify the issuance of an 13 injunction, the making of restitution and the imposition of other equitable relief pursuant to Business
14 and Professions Code § 17203, as to Guidant Corporation, Guidant Sales Corporation, and Boston
15 Scientific Corporation, and each of these Defendants' managing agents and officers.

16 197. As set forth below, Plaintiffs are informed and believe that by failing to abide by the 17 aforementioned federal regulatory scheme, Defendants have engaged in business within the State of 18 California selling products to the public, as defined in Business and Professions Code §§§ 17026,
19 17029, and 17073, for the purpose of injuring competitors and/or destroying competition in violation
20 of Business and Professions Code § 17043.

21 198. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that Defendants have instructed and directed its 22 directors, officers, employees, and/or agents to intentionally and unlawfully violate the 23 aforementioned federal regulatory scheme as a means of gaining an unfair advantage over their 24 competitors in violation of Business and Professions Code § 17047. The advantage gained from 25 violation of the Unfair Business Practices Act accrues, among other ways, in the form of a lower cost 26 of doing business and an increased margin of profit.

27 199. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that Defendants committed further violations of the 28 law in an effort to keep hidden from Plaintiffs and the general public the defective nature of the

1 H135 Device. Defendants did this by falsely claiming authority to conduct an autopsy on the body
2 of Raymond Saad, and then wilfully and maliciously taking the defective H135 Device from his 3 body. This conduct amounted to grand larceny, theft from a corpse, and unlawful conduct of an 4 autopsy, as defined, respectively, in California Penal Code § 487, California Penal Code § 642 and 5 California Health and Safety Code § 7114, and the relevant case law of this State.

6 200. As a result of these acts and omissions by Defendants, the Plaintiffs, on information 7 and belief, allege that Defendant was able to unfairly compete with other entities engaged in the 8 business of selling heart regulating and heart monitoring devices in the State of California in 9 violation of Business and Professions Code, §§ 17000 et seq. and §§ 17200 et seq. Due to these 10 unfair, fraudulent and/or unlawful business practices, Defendants have gained a competitive 11 advantage over other comparable business entities doing business in the State of California who 12 adhere to the aforementioned federal regulatory scheme.

13 201. The victims of these unfair and/or unlawful business practices include the Plaintiffs, 14 Defendants' competitors, and the consuming public. Plaintiffs are informed, believe and allege that 15 Defendant performed the above-mentioned acts with the intent of gaining an unfair competitive
16 advantage and thereby injuring Plaintiffs, other competitors, and the consuming public.

17 202. Each breach of its duty under the aforementioned federal legal scheme in violation of 18 Business and Professions Code § 17100 and other statutes is a crime punishable by both a statutory 19 fine and imprisonment. These failures constitute continuing and ongoing unlawful activities
20 prohibited by Business and Professions Code sections 17000 et seq. and 17200 et seq. and justify 21 the issuance of an injunction. All such remedies are cumulative pursuant to Business and 22 Professions Code § 17205.

23 203. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code § 17203, Plaintiffs, in their individual and 24 representative capacities, request restitution and/or disgorgement of all money wrongfully obtained
25 by Defendants which had been paid to them by any of the Plaintiffs, in violation of Business and 26 Professions Code sections 17000 et seq. and sections 17200 et seq. Furthermore, Plaintiffs request
27 attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure § 1021.5, and from the 28 common law doctrine from which that statute was derived, upon a showing of proof, among other

1 things, that they have acted in the public interest and that a significant benefit has been conferred on 2 the general public and/or a large class of persons, as set forth in the Private Attorney General Act
 3 and the common law of this State.

4 204. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special and
 5 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

6 COUNT XV

7 CONVERSION

8 (By Plaintiffs Against Guidant Defendants)

9 205. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
 10 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

11 206. The H135 Device was purchased by Raymond Saad and Seta Saad from the 12 Defendants. At the time of his death, Mr. Saad had lawful title to and possession of the H135
 13 Device. Upon his death, title remained with his estate. The device, however, remained in Mr.
 14 Saad's body.

15 207. Following Mr. Saad's death, his body was entrusted to the mortuary owned and 16 operated by Defendants Ashley & McMullen and Ashley & McMullen-Wing Sun. While the body
 17 reposed at the mortuary, the Guidant Defendants contacted the mortuary and falsely claimed to have 18 obtained Seta Saad's permission to observe the body and take readings from the H135 Device. This, 19 the Mortuary allowed.

20 208. In addition to taking readings from the H135 Device, the Guidant Defendants wilfully 21 and maliciously extracted the device from Mr. Saad's body and took it away from the Mortuary. The 22 Defendants retain possession of the device to this day.

23 209. The taking of the H135 Device from Mr. Saad's body was not authorized or approved, 24 either verbally or in writing, by Plaintiffs Seta Saad and Christian Saad. The device belonged to these 25 two Plaintiffs, individually and as the Representatives and Successors-in-Interest of Mr. Saad. As 26 a result, the Defendants' taking and retention of the H135 Device constitutes Conversion.

1 210. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct, Plaintiffs, in their 2 individual and representative capacities, have suffered damages for which they are entitled to 3 compensatory, equitable and declaratory relief in an amount to be proven at trial.

4 211. Defendants are liable to the Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all relief to which the 5 Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

9 212. Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference all paragraphs preceding the Claims For
10 Relief sections of Plaintiffs' Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

11 213. For the reasons set forth herein, the surviving Plaintiffs have necessarily paid and have 12 become liable to pay for medical aid, treatment and for medications, and will necessarily incur
13 further expenses of a similar nature in the future as a proximate result of Defendants' misconduct.

14 214. For the reasons set forth herein, the surviving Plaintiffs have suffered and will continue
15 to suffer the loss of their loved one's support, companionship, services, society, love, and affection.

16 215. For Seta Saad, Plaintiffs allege her marital relationship with Raymond Saad has not 17 merely been impaired and depreciated, but destroyed.

18 216. The surviving Plaintiffs have suffered great emotional pain and mental anguish.

19 217. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct, Plaintiffs have 20 sustained and will continue to sustain severe emotional distress, economic losses, and other damages
21 for which they are entitled to compensatory, equitable, and declaratory relief in an amount to be 22 proven at trial.

23 218. Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs jointly and/or severally for all general, special and
24 equitable relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled by law.

Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Information Package

Alternatives to Trial

Here are some other ways to resolve a civil dispute.

The plaintiff must serve a copy of the ADR information package on each defendant along with the complaint. (CRC 201.9(c))

Superior Court of California County of San Francisco

Introduction

Did you know that most civil lawsuits settle without a trial?

And did you know that there are a number of ways to resolve civil disputes without having to sue somebody?

These alternatives to a lawsuit are known as alternative dispute resolutions (ADR). The most common forms of ADR are mediation, arbitration and case evaluation. There are a number of other kinds of ADR as well.

In ADR, trained, impartial persons decide disputes or help parties decide disputes themselves. These persons are called neutrals. For example, in mediation, the neutral is the mediator. Neutrals normally are chosen by the disputing parties or by the court. Neutrals can help parties resolve disputes without having to go to court.

ADR is not new. ADR is available in many communities through dispute resolution programs and private neutrals.

Advantages of ADR

ADR can have a number of advantages over a lawsuit.

- ADR can be speedier. A dispute often can be resolved in a matter of months, even weeks, through ADR, while a lawsuit can take years.
- ADR can save money. Court costs, attorneys fees, and expert fees can be saved.
- ADR can permit more participation. The parties may have more chances to tell their side of the story than in court and may have more control over the outcome.
- ADR can be flexible. The parties can choose the ADR process that is best for them. For example, in mediation the parties may decide how to resolve their dispute.
- ADR can be cooperative. This means that the parties having a dispute may work together with the neutral to resolve the dispute and agree to a remedy that makes sense to them, rather than work against each other.

- ADR can reduce stress. There are fewer, if any, court appearances. And because ADR can be speedier, and save money, and because the parties are normally cooperative, ADR is easier on the nerves. The parties don't have a lawsuit hanging over their heads for years.
- ADR can be more satisfying. For all the above reasons, many people have reported a high degree of satisfaction with ADR.

Because of these advantages, many parties choose ADR to resolve a dispute, instead of filing a lawsuit. Even when a lawsuit has been filed, the court can refer the dispute to a neutral before the parties' position harden and the lawsuit becomes costly. ADR has been used to resolve disputes even after a trial, when the result is appealed.

Disadvantages of ADR

ADR may not be suitable for every dispute.

- If ADR is binding, the parties normally give up most court protections, including a decision by a judge or jury under formal rules of evidence and procedure, and review for legal error by an appellate court.
- There generally is less opportunity to find out about the other side's case with ADR than with litigation. ADR may not be effective if it takes place before the parties have sufficient information to resolve the dispute.
- The neutral may charge a fee for his or her services.
- If a dispute is not resolved through ADR, the parties may have to put time and money into both ADR and a lawsuit.
- Lawsuits must be brought within specified periods of time, known as statutes of limitation. Parties must be careful not to let a statute of limitations run out while a dispute is in an ADR process.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION PROGRAMS Of the San Francisco Superior Court

"It is the policy of the Superior Court that every noncriminal, nonjuvenile case participate either in an early settlement conference, mediation, arbitration, early neutral evaluation or some other alternative dispute resolution process prior to a mandatory settlement conference or trial." (Superior Court Local Rule 4)

This guide is designed to assist attorneys, their clients and self-represented litigants in complying with San Francisco Superior Court's alternative dispute resolution ("ADR") policy. Attorneys are encouraged to share this guide with clients. By making informed choices about dispute resolution alternatives, attorneys, their clients and self-represented litigants may achieve a more satisfying resolution of civil disputes.

The San Francisco Superior Court currently offers three ADR programs for civil matters; each program is described below:

- 1) Judicial arbitration
- 2) Mediation
- 3) The Early Settlement Program (ESP) in conjunction with the San Francisco Bar Association.

JUDICIAL ARBITRATION

Description

In arbitration, a neutral "arbitrator" presides at a hearing where the parties present evidence through exhibits and testimony. The arbitrator applies the law to the facts of the case and makes an award based upon the merits of the case. When the Court orders a case to arbitration it is called judicial arbitration. The goal of arbitration is to provide parties with an adjudication that is earlier, faster, less formal, and usually less expensive than a trial. Upon stipulation of all parties, other civil matters may be submitted to judicial arbitration.

Although not currently a part of the Court's ADR program, civil disputes may also be resolved through private arbitration. Here, the parties voluntarily consent to arbitration. If all parties agree, private arbitration may be binding and the parties give up the right to judicial review of the arbitrator's decision. In private arbitration, the parties select a private arbitrator and are responsible for paying the arbitrator's fees.

Operation

Pursuant to CCP 1141.11 and Local Rule 4, all civil actions in which the amount in controversy is $50,000 or less, and no party seeks equitable relief, shall be ordered to arbitration. A case is ordered to arbitration after the Case Management Conference. An arbitrator is chosen from the Court's Arbitration Panel. Most cases ordered to arbitration are also ordered to a pre-arbitration settlement conference. Arbitrations are generally held between 7 and 9 months after a complaint has been filed. Judicial arbitration is not binding unless all parties agree to be bound by the arbitrator's decision. Any party may request a court trial within 30 days after the arbitrator's award has been filed.

Cost

There is no cost to the parties for judicial arbitration or for the pre-arbitration settlement conference.

MEDIATION

Description

Mediation is a voluntary, flexible, and confidential process in which a neutral third party "mediator" facilitates negotiations. The goal of mediation is to reach a mutually satisfactory agreement that resolves all or part of the dispute after exploring the significant interests, needs, and priorities of the parties in light of relevant evidence and the law.

Although there are different styles and approaches to mediation, most mediations begin with presentations of each side's view of the case. The mediator's role is to assist the parties in communicating with each other, expressing their interests, understanding the interests of opposing parties, recognizing areas of agreement and generating options for resolution. Through questions, the mediator aids each party in assessing the strengths and weaknesses of their position.

A mediator does not propose a judgment or provide an evaluation of the merits and value of the case. Many attorneys and litigants find that mediation's emphasis on cooperative dispute resolution produces more satisfactory and enduring resolutions. Mediation's non-adversarial approach is particularly effective in disputes in which the parties have a continuing relationship, where there are multiple parties, where equitable relief is sought, or where strong personal feelings exist.

Operation

San Francisco Superior Court Local Court Rule 4 provides three different voluntary mediation programs for civil disputes. An appropriate program is available for all civil cases, regardless of the type of action or type of relief sought.

To help litigants and attorneys identify qualified mediators, the Superior Court maintains a list of mediation providers whose training and experience have been reviewed and approved by the Court. The list of court approved mediation providers can be found at www.sfgov.org/courts. Litigants are not limited to mediators on the court list and may select any mediator agreed upon by all parties. A mediation provider need not be an attorney.

Local Rule 4.2 D allows for mediation in lieu of judicial arbitration, so long as the parties file a stipulation to mediate within 240 days from the date the complaint is filed. If settlement is not reached through mediation, a case proceeds to trial as scheduled.

Private Mediation

The Private Mediation program accommodates cases that wish to participate in private mediation to fulfill the court's alternative dispute resolution requirement. The parties select a mediator, panel of mediators or mediation program of their choice to conduct the mediation. The cost of mediation is borne by the parties equally unless the parties agree otherwise.

Parties in civil cases that have not been ordered to arbitration may consent to private mediation at any point before trial. Parties willing to submit a matter to private mediation should indicate this preference on the Stipulation to Alternative Dispute Resolution form or the Case Management Statement (CM-110). Both forms are attached to this packet.

Mediation Services of the Bar Association of San Francisco

The Mediation Services is a coordinated effort of the San Francisco Superior Court and The Bar Association of San Francisco (BASF) in which a court approved mediator provides three hours of mediation at no charge to the parties. It is designed to afford civil litigants the opportunity to engage in early mediation of a case shortly after filing the complaint, in an effort to resolve the matter before substantial funds are expended on the litigation process. Although the goal of the program is to provide the service at the outset of the litigation, the program may be utilized at anytime throughout the litigation process.

The mediators participating in the program have been pre-approved by the court pursuant to strict educational and experience requirements.

After the filing of the signed Stipulation to Alternative Dispute Resolution form included in this ADR package the parties will be contacted by BASF. Upon payment of the $200 per party administration fee, parties select a specific mediator from the list of court approved mediation providers. The hourly mediator fee beyond the first three hours will vary depending on the mediator selected. Waiver of the administrative fee based on financial hardship is available.

A copy of the Mediation Services rules can be found on the BASF website at www.sfbar.org, or you may call BASF at 415-782-8913

Judicial Mediation

The Judicial Mediation program is designed to provide early mediation of complex cases by volunteer judges of the San Francisco Superior Court. Cases considered for the program include construction defect, employment discrimination, professional malpractice, insurance coverage, toxic torts and industrial accidents.

Parties interested in judicial mediation should file the Stipulation to Alternative Dispute Resolution form attached to this packet indicating a joint request for inclusion in the program. A preference for a specific judge may be indicated. The court Alternative Dispute Resolution Coordinator will coordinate assignment of cases that qualify for the program.

Cost

Generally, the cost of Private Mediation ranges from $200 per hour to $400 per hour and is shared equally by the parties. Many mediators are willing to adjust their fees depending upon the income and resources of the parties. Any party who meets certain eligibility requirements may ask the court to appoint a mediator to serve at no cost to the parties.

The Mediation Services of the Bar Association of San Francisco provides three hours of mediation time at no cost with a $200 per party administrative fee.

There is no charge for participation in the Judicial Mediation program.

EARLY SETTLEMENT PROGRAM

Description

The Bar Association of San Francisco, in cooperation with the Court, offers an Early Settlement Program ("ESP") as part of the Court's settlement conference calendar. The goal of early settlement is to provide participants an opportunity to reach a mutually acceptable settlement that resolves all or part of the dispute. The two-member volunteer attorney panel reflects a balance between plaintiff and defense attorneys with at least 10 years of trial experience.

As in mediation, there is no set format for the settlement conference. A conference typically begins with a brief meeting with all parties and counsel, in which each is given an opportunity to make an initial statement. The panelists then assist the parties in understanding and candidly discussing the strengths and weaknesses of the case. The Early Settlement Conference is considered a "quasi-judicial" proceeding and, therefore, is not entitled to the statutory confidentiality protections afforded to mediation.

Operation

Civil cases enter the ESP either voluntarily or through assignment by the Court. Parties who wish to choose the early settlement process should indicate this preference on the status and setting conference statement.

If a matter is assigned to the ESP by the Court, parties may consult the ESP program materials accompanying the "Notice of the Early Settlement Conference" for information regarding removal from the program.

Participants are notified of their ESP conference date approximately 4 months prior to trial. The settlement conference is typically held 2 to 3 months prior to the trial date. The Bar Association's ESP Coordinator informs the participants of names of the panel members and location of the settlement conference approximately 2 weeks prior to the conference date.

Local Rule 4.3 sets out the requirements of the ESP. All parties to a case assigned to the ESP are required to submit a settlement conference statement prior to the conference. All parties, attorneys who will try the case, and insurance representatives with settlement authority are required to attend the settlement conference. If settlement is not reached through the conference, the case proceeds to trial as scheduled.

Cost

All parties must submit a $200 generally non-refundable administrative fee to the Bar Association of San Francisco. Parties who meet certain eligibility requirements may request a fee waiver. For more information, please contact the ESP Coordinator at (415) 982-1600.

Judicial Mediation Program

Introducing a new court alternative dispute resolution program that provides judicial mediation of complex civil cases

The Judicial Mediation program offers mediation of complex civil litigation by a San Francisco Superior Court judge familiar with the area of the law that is the subject of the controversy. Cases that will be considered for participation in the program include, but are not limited to professional malpractice, construction, employment, insurance coverage disputes, mass torts and complex commercial litigation. Judicial mediation offers civil litigants the opportunity to engage in early mediation of a case shortly after filing the complaint in an effort to resolve the matter before substantial funds are expended. This program may also be utilized at anytime throughout the litigation process. The panel of judges currently participating in the program includes:

The Honorable David L. Ballati
The Honorable Anne Bouliane
The Honorable Ellen Chaitin
The Honorable John J. Conway
The Honorable Robert L. Dondero
The Honorable Ernest H. Goldsmith
The Honorable Curtis E. A. Karnow
The Honorable Patrick J. Mahoney

The Honorable Tomar Mason
The Honorable James J. McBride
The Honorable Kevin M. McCarthy
